Wayne E. Barlow (Seymour)

OCT 28, 1932 - MAY 18, 2015

Wayne Barlow, beloved husband of Beverly Barlow, unexpectedly departed this earthly life on Monday, May 18, 2015, at his home in rural Seymour, Missouri. Wayne was eighty-two years, six months and twenty days of age.

One of seven children, he was born Wayne Eugene Barlow on October 28, 1932, to Frank Wesley and Mary Nan (Smith) Barlow, in Mansfield, Missouri. He was raised in Mansfield and attended Mansfield schools. Wayne was a graduate of the Mansfield High School Class of 1950. After high school, he farmed and worked at the saw mill in Mansfield until joining the United States Navy in 1955. After a four-year enlistment in the "Regular" Navy, he attended Southwest Missouri State University (current day Missouri State University), where he acquired a Bachelor's Degree. He later completed his Master's Degree in Education from MSU. Wayne retired from the United States Naval Reserves in 1989. On June 19, 1959, he wed Beverly Jean Francka and to this union a son was born. The Barlows made their home in Seymour where, in 1960, Wayne worked as an Industrial Arts teacher for Seymour Schools. He finished his career in the school system in 1991, retiring as principal of Seymour High School. Wayne was active in the community as a member of the Seymour Lions Club, American Legion and Hazelwood Masonic Lodge. Wayne loved life and enjoyed doing a variety of things. He treasured his grandkids, especially his new great-grandson, Dawson, and spending time with them and family. His dog, Charlie, was his best buddy and could be seen in the truck with Wayne doing daily chores. Wayne loved the outdoors and being on the farm. The Coffee "Clutch," (his morning coffee club) was a sunrise routine he truly enjoyed. Years ago, selling cars on Saturdays at Bob Barlow Chevrolet dealership in Seymour was a favorite pastime. When they could, Wayne and Beverly looked forward to lake trips, traveling, water skiing and playing Skip-Bo. Wayne was a teller of stories, both big and small. In addition to his parents, Wayne was preceded in death by his son, Michael Wayne Barlow, on April 25, 2011; his two brothers, John Barlow and Harry Barlow; and sisters, Dorothy Wood and Reba Mummert. Wayne is survived by his devoted wife, Beverly J. Barlow of the home; granddaughter, Whitney Anderson of Seymour; granddaughter, Madison Barlow of Seymour; grandson, Johnathon Barlow and wife, Kayla, of Seymour; great-grandson, Dawson Anderson; sisters, Helen Moody of Seymour, and Mary Belle Edwards of Mansfield; daughter-in-law, Cindy Barlow; several nieces and nephews; and many more extended family, dear friends, comrades and neighbors. Wayne was a loving husband, grandfather, great-grandfather, brother, uncle, educator and a caring neighbor and friend. We celebrate his life and the many lives he influenced during his tenure as an educator. We will miss him dearly, but will always cherish the many wonderful memories we had together.

Memorials in Wayne's honor are suggested to:

I came to Seymour, Missouri in 1971 to teach Social Studies in the high school. Wayne and I became good friends, partly because Wayne new my father Randy from the old "Navy Days" and mostly because Wayne was an outstanding individual and mentor. Wayne kind of took me under his wing and taught me with wise advice, encouragement, and by example of what it takes to be a good teacher. Another good friend of my dad's was Robert Wood and Robert was married to Wayne's sister Dorthy. My dad passed away in 2002 but Robert and I have remained close all these years. Last year Robert sent me Wayne's phone number and told me to call him and I did. Wayne and I talked about everything from teaching and being a school principal, kids today, and what's wrong and right in the world. I ended our conversation by telling Wayne that I would try to come see him before long. I am so glad that I called and talked with him but sorry that I did not make that visit. I left Seymour in 1972 and went into the Army and retired from the Army in 1996. I have never forgotten my time in Seymour and my good friend and mentor, Wayne Barlow. Kind Regards, Michael D Brewer LTC, USA Ret.

I was a student at Seymour when Mr. Barlow came there to teach. I was in the 7th Grade. This would have been in the 1960--1961 school year. I had him for social studies and leathercraft that year. Then, as a high school freshman, I had Mr. Barlow for industrial arts (62-63 school year). I moved from Seymour that summer. Mr. Barlow was hands down one of the best school teachers I ever had. He was a good teacher, and had a lot of patience with us knot-headed kids. The last time I saw Mr. Barlow was in 1977, when I was in Seymour and dropped by his house to visit with him. In 2009, Mr. Barlow called me at my office (I now live in South Carolina) out of the blue. He had seen an short item in the SMS alumni paper with my name, and called to find out if I was the same Terry Walker he had had as a student all those years ago. We had a delightful talk, and I could tell, even over the phone, that he hadn't changed a bit. All of us who had Mr. Barlow as a teacher, and, in fact, in my estimation, all who knew him, were much richer for that experience. I am very sorry to learn of his passing. My condolences to all Mr. Barlow's family. Mr. Barlow will always stand high in my personal regard and in my affection.
