So sorry for your loss. Doesn't matter how old we get, the loss of a parent is hard. I'll agree with Marcia that there's a great celebration going on in Heaven. It's a great family that we have, and now we have another angel to watch over us. Barbara Goans

I remember being envious, not only of my cousins, but also, of the children Aunt Dollie loved and cared for. She seemed so totally into each and every one and their needs. I was totally fascinated when she got her first open front (window) clothes washer. My mother and granny were still using the wringer! And, all of those glasses and cups that each child used for beverages. (Milk and water, not soda!) I could go on forever!! And my memories only span a few years or moments of her life. May each of you find comfort in knowing that she has been reunited with so many loved ones who had gone before. What a celebration they must be having in Heaven today! Always, in His love, Marcia (Goans) Hiser
