Edna Stigall

JUL 1, 2008 - JUL 1, 2008

dna Agnes Garner Stigall was born to Martha Belle Garner and Charles Joseph Garner on August 31, 1911. Edna was the second of eight children: Leota Garner Stigall, Ervil (Buck) Garner, Arlin Garner, Roger Garner, Dorothy Garner Claxton, Monroe Garner, and Mabus Garner Weaver. Edna attended Green Valley Elementary School where she graduated the eighth grade. Later she became the Coon Creek School Clerk. Edna was a dedicated member of Green Valley Baptist Church. She married Thurman Clifford Stigall on February 13, 1929, in the home of Reverend S. D. Belt. They built their house shortly after they were married and became beef and dairy farmers. They farmed there throughout their married lives. They were happily married for sixty-six years. During the “Great Depression”, Edna and Cliff went to Idaho for a summer to work on a sheep ranch. Edna was a cook there for the farmhands that worked the ranch. In the early ‘40s she worked at the Rock Store Tomato Canning Factory, where she was known as the fastest peeler. She had a good heart and enjoyed helping others. During the construction of Highway E, she fed dinner every day to the workers who paved the road. She would also allow homeless drifters to stay in the barn loft for a night and feed them a hot meal. She loved her family and friends very deeply and enjoyed their company often. She loved cooking a big dinner and having family over to eat. Then she liked to sit out in the back yard afterward and eat watermelon or make homemade ice cream. She also enjoyed gardening and sewing. She would can fruits and vegetables from her garden and share them with family and friends. She sewed many beautiful quilts and made her own dresses as well. Edna was preceded in death by her husband, Clifford, on September 22, 1995; her son, Garnet, on March 31, 2007; four brothers; and two sisters. She is survived by her son, Duane Eugene Stigall; Linda Stigall, wife of Garnet Stigall; her grandchildren, Mark Stigall and his wife, Kim, Doug Stigall and his wife, Jodi, Mike Stigall and his wife, Laurie, Kimberly Stigall Wenom and her husband,
