Angie Connors lit a candle in honor of Patricia .

I truly wish I had commented a long time ago. I am Pati's step daughter. She accepted myself & my children into her life & treated us as family. She found out I love bon fires & smores. She always tried to have them for us every time we came down. I know she understands up in heaven, maybe she has taken my nephew under her wing. He passed the same week as Pati did, he was 12. My deepest regret is not being there. Yet I know Pati she would completely understand and would probable kick my butt if I was not there for him & the family. I miss talking with her, sitting out on the front porch just visiting. Only if we had more time. I know she is at peace, she is up there with my Dad now. Love you Pati White!!!

Jeanie Smallwood shared a photo to the Tribute Wall album.

Ms. Pat was a warm, gentle, giving and caring lady. I've known her for nearly 30 years and worked around her for most of that time. Pat, Shirley and I would meet up at Cracker Barrel for lunch just to visit and catch up, just not often enough. She may be lost to this Earth but she is forever and always fishing with her husband and loving her son. She will not be forgotten to anyone that actually knew her. My thoughts and prayers are with her family as they mourn her loss. We all have another guardian angel watching over us. 🙏
