I met Jerry on my first day of high school. I was about the smallest kid in school and he was about the biggest. He played the tuba in band and I was a year younger and tempted to play percussion. I don't know why but he immediately took my under his wing, which was quite OK with me. He quickly took on the name Big Jerr. Since then I met and became acquainted with his Sisters. I never knew of him ever meeting anyone that he couldn't carry on a conversation with. A trait I still have not mastered. I've always looked up to him, and I still do. Miss ya Big Jerr! "Jerry was a great person. He was a friend from the time I met him in first grade at Kapp School. We would always eat lunch together and I believe he fell off the large swing and broke his arm. He had the old commercial of "kick the habit" down and would often demonstrate the maneuver of finesse. To Jerry's family, prayers. Jerry will be missed by all. May God be with you at his time".
