She was the sweetest baby. I got the pleasure of babysitting her for an evening and I really enjoyed every moment of it. She was so small but the love I have for her is so big and I will miss her dearly. I was so busy soaking up every moment with her as she was, that I never imagined what she would be like when she grew up. Now I only imagine the day we meet again in the great beyond. I love you, Lydia Rose.
