As a little boy my grandfather aubrey always took the time to try to teach me things that would help me later in life whether it was about god, hunting or cooking he was there for me he taught me how to drive shoot and how a man should be a man. I remember looking forward to seeing grandpa pulling in the drive on my birthday because I knew every year he had me a bb gun :-). I remember setting up targets in front of the old weeping willow and he and I laying army man style on the ground creating memories that will never be forgotten and cherished forever. Thankyou grandpa we were a heck of a team.
